Happy is the family that buys their furniture at the Jackson Store Co.

The song service at the Methodist church Sunday night was a grand success, judging from the crowded house that listened to it. The church was crowded and extra chairs and benches were brought to seat the congregation, and standing room was almost at a premium. Everybody there enjoyed the service. Col. Birmingham knows how to get up a song service, and Jackson people do enjoy good music. A repetition of such a service would be welcomed by our people at least once a month.

Cowhide was very high when the cow jumped over the moon, but it did not raise the price at on shoes at Jackson Store Co.

The Modern Woodmen of America collects no assessment for October. That is what we members like to hear occasionally, but it is not the best for the order. In after years the Modern Woodmen, like the good old A. O. U. W., will be collecting two or three assessments at once in the way of raised assessments. Better be like the Fraternal Order of Colonials, collect an assessment every month, death or no death, rain or shine, and then lay up a reserve to be used in old age. The Fraternal Order of Colonials is the coming fraternal order. Come and join us.

G. MILTENBERGER & COMPANY,
JACKSON, MO.

Hon. Nelson Crews, a noted colored orator spoke at the Cape Monday night. The court house was filled to its full capacity and every one spoke in glowing terms of the speaker. Over half of the audience were white voters. The organ grinder and monkey have gone. They did little business here. Nearly all the es-habitants of Jackson have gone down the "Pike," and an organ-grinder and monkey have no charms for them.
